Past + Present = Future

Madonna Academy was established in 1960 by the Archdiocese of Miami with the mission of educating young women under the guidance of the School Sisters of Notre Dame. The school remained as a West Hollywood institution until the merging in 1988 with nearby Chaminade High School.

The combined spiritual blending provided a natural progression for the two to become one.

Together for the first time, boys and girls would share devotion to Mary, family and friendship. The Marianist philosophy of educating Mind, Body and Spirit would now become one with Truth, Beauty and Goodness (Verum, Pulchrum, Bonum).

Chaminade-Madonna College Preparatory was born.
